

The problem with this, is that the lie is never corrected.

Instead, we teach new information by teaching sharps and flats, when we could help our students have a more organized knowledge base.