

If we are playing the 3rd of the V triad, we know that that note “tends” to resolve to the root of the key.

If we have the leading tone, we can adjust the pitch on that note to help resolve the motion between the two triads.