Why is this important?

Because every part of music can be distilled down to and related to the distance between two adjacent pitches, AND.....